RELEASE AND HOLD HARMLESS AGREEMENT

In registering for the _____,
I acknowledge that there are risks involved with any adventure, travel and activity in the outdoors or workshop situations. I acknowledge these inherent risks, which include, by way of illustration and not limitation, the risk of injury or illness in places without medical facilities; the danger posed by the forces of nature; and the risk of accident by any means of transportation during travel. Knowing these risks, I hereby hold The Golden Hummingbird Ltd. harmless from all liability arising from or growing out of its actions as the trip provider and I also release The Golden Hummingbird Ltd., its agents, employees, officers and directors from all liability, actions, claims or demands for damages or expenses resulting from its and/or my participation in the trip. I acknowledge that this agreement is binding upon myself, my heirs, executors and administrators, members of my family and any minors I may bring with me.

I also agree that any medical expenses incurred, including emergency transportation will be my sole responsibility and that I will pay all expenses. I agree that I am responsible for my psychological well-being and that my entire participation in this journey will be of my own free will. I have no known physical or mental condition that would prevent or inhibit me from fulfilling this responsibility.

I understand that once this workshop has begun, if I choose to leave at any time, for any reason, except for an extreme family emergency (in which case a partial refund will be considered) - that I will not receive any refund of moneys paid. I also understand that I am not entitled to a refund if for any reason I feel dissatisfied with the work during or after the workshop.

Should the participant have a history or serious psychological, psychotic or serious mental conditions that required psychiatric treatment within the last 3 years, these must provide evidence of official, medical clearance and prove stable, mental and emotional conditions through regular medication and treatment. Failing to do so will lead to immediate termination of participation, will not be re-admitted and not refunded. The participant is solely responsible for his expenses to return to his home or home country.

If at any time during the workshop the leader feels that any individual(s) within the group are psychologically or physically endangering the welfare of the group he reserves the right to have that person or persons leave the group. No refunds will be given in this case. Everything reasonably possible will be done to maintain a safe environment so that each person may receive the full benefit of the Journey.

I am also aware of the advisability of both travel and trip cancellation insurance. I have carefully read and I understand this legally binding agreement limiting liability and I sign of my own free will.
